

Diabetes Management System for Private Practice

Bringing the power of a hospital Clinical Information System into your Private Practice

“Many of the worst effects of diabetes can be avoided. We cannot afford to wait until people have heart attacks or have problems with their sight or kidneys before they get the care they need.” Diabetes UK

Hicom Technology

Tried and trusted by over 200 healthcare organisations throughout the world, Hicom Technology Ltd is one of the leading and most experienced software development companies in the healthcare sector, creating off-the-shelf and tailor-made solutions for administration, human resources, education/training and the management of clinical information & research.

DIAMOND: Diabetes Management

DIAMOND is Hicom’s innovative information management software application designed to meet the needs of the modern Diabetes care service.

DIAMOND is the UK’s leading Diabetes management software with over 140 installations worldwide.

DIAMOND has been developed for use by multi-disciplinary care teams, providing specific and relevant facility to the healthcare professional.

DIAMOND elite

DIAMOND elite is a fully hosted and supported patient administration and clinical management software solution, designed specifically for medium/small clinics and individual Diabetes practitioners.

The DIAMOND elite service delivers all the functionality and benefits of a specialist hospital system into private practice without the complex and costly implementation or maintenance costs.

Meeting Your Needs

DIAMOND elite can be configured to the needs of your local clinic or practice, providing you with the facilities you require now, with scope for future expansion as your healthcare practice develops.

DIAMOND elite is provided as a subscription service, with a charge made in respect of the number of registered patients. This ensures equitable charging relative to the size of your healthcare service.

Hassle-Free Service Delivery

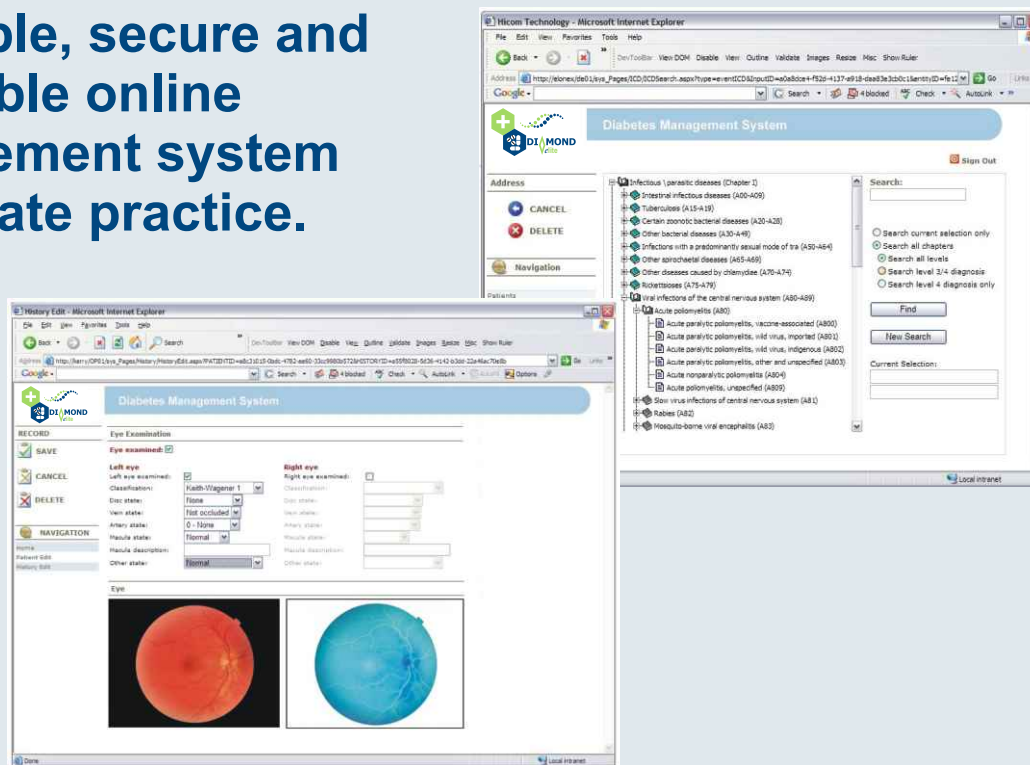

DIAMOND elite is provided as a hosted service, which is accessed via a secure Internet connection. Located on secure and resilient servers, DIAMOND elite operates under state-of-the-art security standards, ensuring patient data and commercial information remain safe and confidential.

Patient records remain the property of the clinician at all times.

An estimated 25% of the world’s nations have not made any specific provision for Diabetes care in national health plans.

Scaleable, secure and affordable online management system for private practice.
